

Teaching for Sustainable Futures

Outcomes for young people

Young people should be supported to:

Develop a connection with the natural world

Understand the interconnectedness of the Earth

Contribute to building a more socially just, equitable and compassionate world

Challenge misinformation about the climate and ecological crises

Act positively for the natural environment to build a more sustainable future